

Dear Colleague

Welcome to the new edition of the Thomas Telford Catalogue.

The year ahead

2007 promises to be a great year as we publish more ground-breaking titles and continue to provide authoritative and comprehensive information for professionals and academics world-wide.

You can be sure that when you order from us, you will receive information that is:

- essential to the development of civil engineering and construction professionals
- concerned with advances in civil engineering and construction practice
- written by established thought leaders.

Special sales opportunities

When you buy bulk copies of Thomas Telford books, you can benefit from:

- customised* books, which include corporate and product branding options for clients
- significant discounts on the advertised price.

Online/internet initiatives

We are constantly developing our capabilities for electronic delivery of civil engineering information by seeking new distribution methods, including access to published material via the internet, CD-ROMs and company intranets.

www.thomastelford.com/books offers valuable resources for engineering professionals, libraries and institutions, students, authors and the trade. Full details of all our publications are available online along with our terms and conditions of doing business.

To discuss any of the opportunities or initiatives mentioned above, please contact me as below. I look forward to working with you during the course of 2007.

Regards

THOMAS TELFORD REPRESENTATIVES	BACK COVER

We are continually looking to develop and expand our range of publications, authors and publishing partners. If you have an idea for a new publication, are organising a conference or seminar and would like the proceedings issued as a high-quality volume, or if you currently produce reports that are only disseminated selectively but which might, with Thomas Telford Publishing, have a far wider market appeal, we would be delighted to hear from you. Please contact the Publisher on +44 (0)20 7665 2450.
